Welcome from Pathways11 Executive Committee

The Pathways 11 Conference Organising Committee would like to extend a warm welcome to everyone who shares the vision for more inclusive tertiary education experiences. Thank you for joining us for three days of thought-provoking discussion, information-sharing, strategizing, and problem solving as well as some great social events and networking. We have developed a stimulating Conference program for you as well as an engaging space for you to network, reconnect with friends and meet new people.

The Australian Government’s vision of a socially inclusive society is one in which all Australians feel valued and have the opportunity to participate fully. Completion of post-secondary education is critical in providing opportunities for people with disabilities to participate equitably in society through improved employment and financial outcomes.

The Australian Tertiary Education Network on Disability (ATEND) is the peak body for service providers and consumers concerned with the education and employment needs of people with disabilities in post-secondary education throughout Australia. The ATEND Pathways Conference has been organised biennially throughout Australia for the last 20 years. The Pathways Conference was last held in Adelaide, South Australia in 1996 for Pathways 3 – Inclusive Practices, Optimum Outcomes. In 2012, the Conference has returned to Adelaide to explore the theme Sharpening Ideas: Refining and Redefining.

The Adelaide Convention Centre will showcase a comprehensive program for delegates. South Australian Member of the Legislative Council, The Honorable Kelly Vincent, Dignity for Disability party, will open the Conference. Delegates will be inspired by prominent speakers. The Conference will provide an opportunity to stimulate new ideas, review current practice and policy, and network with local and international colleagues.

To ensure the best possible Conference, we encourage delegates from all over Australia to share their insights and enthusiasm.

We have also included several social activities in the program at the end of Day 1 and Day 2 so that you can relax and network whilst enjoying the beautiful River Torrens vista and consuming delectable South Australian food and wine!

Once again, on behalf of the Australian Tertiary Education Network on Disability (ATEND), The University of Adelaide, University of South Australia, Flinders University and TAFESA, we welcome you to Adelaide and Pathways 11. We look forward to a great Conference, and hope you get the chance to explore Adelaide and its surrounds. Enjoy!

Welcome from ATEND

On behalf of the ATEND Committee I welcome you to the Pathways 11 Conference. Every two years we have the unique opportunity to come together as a sector to share knowledge, stories and to focus on improving the success of students with disability in further education and beyond.

It is a huge task that our State bodies undertake in organising the Conference and I wish to publically acknowledge the great work all the States have done in organising the previous Conferences. The South Australian team has taken on the challenge with great enthusiasm and dedication and we commend all of the Organising Committee as well as the Conference Organisers Plevin and Associates Pty Ltd.

Following on from the review of ATEND that was undertaken early in 2012 there are some major changes to our objectives that I feel focuses our energies and provides us with some clear directions for the future. I encourage you to visit the ATEND stand or come to our AGM here at the Conference to discuss the changes with us, to meet your local member and to see how we are supporting the sector.

I hope you enjoy the Conference and I look forward to talking with as many of you as possible during our time together.

Darlene McLennan
President of ATEND
Keynote Speakers

Hon Kelly Vincent
Member South Australian Legislative Council

Kelly Vincent is an Australian playwright, actress and politician elected to the eleventh and last seat for an 8-year term in the South Australian Legislative Council at the 2010 state election for the Dignity for Disability party. Kelly has cerebral palsy and attends parliament in a wheelchair. She wrote and appeared in several "No Strings Attached" productions, a company dedicated to people with disabilities. She undertook high school work experience with the company in 2004, and has worked with the company on and off. She is fluent in the French and Spanish languages, and began language studies at university after Year 12 before returning to playwriting.

Dr Gill Hicks, MBE FRSA

Gill Hicks is the founder of London-based not-for-profit M.A.D (Make a Difference) for Peace, and a motivational speaker, author, curator, and trustee for several cultural organisations. She began her career as a speaker in the wake of the July 7, 2005 London bombings. Hicks was the last living victim rescued. Both her legs were amputated below the knee, and her injuries were so severe that she was initially not expected to live. She was admitted to St Thomas' Hospital without an identity - she was labelled only as 'One Unknown'. Gill has lived in London since 1992. She is former Publishing Director of the architecture, design and contemporary culture magazine Blueprint, Director of the multi-disciplinary design and publishing group Dangerous Minds, and Head of Curation at the UK's Design Council. She is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, Trustee of the Women's Playhouse Trust, Trustee of the Architecture Foundation and an Advisor to Psychology Beyond Borders. In 2006 Hicks was appointed Ambassador for Peace Direct (Best New Charity 2005), and in 2007 was made an Advocate for Leonard Cheshire Disability. Her first book, One Unknown, was shortlisted for the Mind Book of the Year 2007. In 2008, she carried the Olympic torch in Canberra. She is well-known for her inspirational talks and seminars with many organisations in the UK and Australia including charities, the health service, the police and emergency services, city institutions, schools, community and faith groups.

Sally Kift is the new Deputy Vice Chancellor (Academic) at James Cook University. Until May 2012 Sally was Professor of Law at Queensland University of Technology. Until December 2007 Professor Kift was Director of the Queensland University of Technology’s First Year Experience Program (FYE). The FYE focuses on the issue of raising student awareness of support services, particularly at key times in the academic year and in communicating with students effectively to aid in the transition to University study. Professor Kift has received widespread recognition for her excellence in teaching. In 1999, Professor Kift received the Law Faculty Teaching Excellence Award. In 2001, she was selected as one of three QUT Distinguished Teaching Award recipients and went on to become a national finalist (with Kingsford Legal Centre) at the Australian Awards for University Teaching, where she was runner-up in the Law and Legal Studies category of those Awards. Professor Kift has published widely in legal education and in criminal law and has received many national and international invitations to speak on issues relating to transition and the first year experience, curriculum design to embed and assess graduate attributes and the current state of legal education.

Arana Pearson, the Director of Keepwell Ltd, has provided consumer consultancy, facilitation and training for mental health since 1993, currently working in Australia and New Zealand. Arana is a musician and writer who became involved in mental health service sector some years after his own experience of using mental health services in New Zealand. He was the first chairman for the National Consumer Advisory Group in the New Zealand Like Minds Like Mine project to counter stigma and discrimination associated with mental illness, and until recently was an advisor to the New Zealand Mental Health Commission. Arana has performed with passion in a variety of forums including keynote addresses throughout Australia and New Zealand. He released a CD music recording of the mental health consumer anthem “I’m just a little mad” (2000) and a relaxation CD of piano music (2003) and is the organiser of Mad Pride™ concerts throughout Australasia. Keepwell won a gold award for excellence at the Australasian Mental Health Services (The MHS) Awards in August 2006.

Dr Nicola Reavley
Research Fellow, Orygen
Youth Health Research Centre
(OYHRC), University of Melbourne

Dr Nicola Reavley is a Research Fellow at Orygen Youth Health Research Centre (OYHRC), University of Melbourne. She is a Chief Investigator on the MindWise project, which aims to evaluate the effects of a multifaceted mental health literacy intervention in further education students. Prior to working at OYHRC she worked at the Centre for Rheumatic Diseases, University of Melbourne where her role was to manage the development and pilot testing of the Australian WorkHealth Program - Arthritis. During this period she was also a Chief Investigator on the Victorian Department of Health-funded Review of Workplace-Based Diabetes Prevention Initiatives project which was successfully concluded in June 2009 and was used to inform the Council of Australian Government (COAG) workplace health policy.

Darryl Sellwood

Darryl Sellwood is a researcher and has recently completed his Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in the School of Communication, International Studies and Languages at the University of South Australia. He completed his Bachelor of Computer and Information Science in 2008 and he has a long history of involvement in advocacy to improve services for people with disabilities. He was a Director of the Australian Communication Exchange Limited (ACE), offering communication products and services to Deaf, communication impaired and hearing impaired. His role at ACE and his research have enabled him to discover the point where his interests in people and technology converge. An incisive and provocative thinker and an engaging speaker, Darryl has presented numerous conference papers and two keynote addresses, in May 2011 at the Australian National Conference at AGOSCI in Adelaide and in July 2011 at the International AAC Conference in Warsaw, Poland.

Robbi Williams
Chief Executive Officer,
Julia Farr Association

Robbi Williams is CEO of the Julia Farr group, a trio of non-government organisations working to improve the life chances for people living with disability and their families, through research, policy development, housing services and grant-giving. With a background in psychology, Robbi has over 25 years’ international experience working across a wide range of social issues, including disability, mental health and ageing. Robbi is national convenor of In Control Australia, a collective movement advocating for the availability of personalised funding and support in Australia. Robbi is author of the blog Purple Orange.

At the University of Adelaide we have been teaching the nation’s teachers for over 120 years. Throughout this time we have empowered the educators of tomorrow to inspire confidence in the next generation. Through our cutting edge research and international collaborations, we ensure that our graduates are cognisant of today’s complex teaching issues. We aim for our graduates to leave us with a philosophy of social inclusion that encompasses indigenous education and disability awareness within tertiary education. Together we can make a difference.

The three NDCO Program objectives are to:

- Improve transitions to help people with disability to move from school or the community into post-secondary education, training and subsequent employment.
- Increase participation by people with disability in higher education, vocational education and training and subsequent employment.
- Establish better links between schools, universities, TAFEs, training providers, employers and disability service providers so that they can work together to provide the best possible assistance for people with disability.

The NDCO Program works to assist people with disability to access and participate in post-secondary education, training and employment, through a national network of 31 officers.

Adelaide’s Premium Nightlife – nightclubs, lounges and pubs (Adelaide City only)

Moskva Vodka Bar
192 Hindley St  Ph 8211 9007

There has to be something special about Vodka Bar, otherwise there wouldn't be the line-ups and the fashion checks. People still flock there. It's Adelaide's answer to those word-of-mouth LA or New York City clubs.

La Bohème
36 Grote St  Ph 8212 8884

La Bohème is the closest thing Adelaide has to a charming Parisian bar. The mood is bohemian with artwork from local artists gracing the walls. DJs appear on Friday and Saturday night with a variety of styles including, jazz, lounge, funk and alternative.

Lotus Lounge
268 Morphett St  Ph 8231 0312

Plenty of choices and plenty of fresh ingredients. Even the standard mixers are made with cocktail-like precision at Lotus. It's small, cosy and livelier than many, so it kind of straddles the line between lounge and cocktail bar.

Fumo Blu Cocktail Lounge
270 Rundle St  Ph 8232 2533

Let’s face it, if we could afford it, cocktails would be the drink of choice all the time. At Fumo, it would take a while to get through the entire list. It’s a nice environment to drink in surrounded by fish tanks and comfy booths. Translates literally to Blue Smoke, is a cigar lounge with a difference. From the moment one descends into this underground establishment the inspiration for Fumo’s design becomes apparent - a 50’s style cocktail lounge with definitive funky undertones.

The Austral
205 Rundle St  Ph 8223 4660

Of course, the Austral has to get a mention. It’s the perfect combination of casual pub and trendy hangout. It’s a perfect meeting place, dining option and night spot.

Electric Light Hotel
235 Grenfell St  Ph 8232 2666

This is the new name for the old East End Exchange - international bands, DJs and performing arts.

Botanic Bar
309 North Tce  Ph 8227 0799

Botanic has to have the best atmosphere of any bar in Adelaide. The lighting is perfect, mixers are served with fresh ingredients in those big thick glasses, there are booths, lounges, and a restaurant in the middle perfect for special occasions.

Savvy Bar Lounge
149 Waymouth St  Ph 8221 6030

This place is too cool to just be a nightclub but too pumping to be a lounge bar. It’s kind of a lounge club, if that’s a word. Everyone would have seen the glamour-types in Savvy’s massive line-ups. That’s nothing compared with what’s inside. It’s one of the premiere bars in Adelaide, with an extensive fan base of regulars. With a DJ line-up of Adelaide’s best combined with a relaxed feel and laid back atmosphere, Savvy holds its own in the city of churches. With an exceptional lighting and sound system, Savvy nightclub is a great place to drink, dance and play till the early morning.
